U.S. AIR FORCE

“What impresses me most is that you deliver so much more than humor. You have a unique ability to connect your gifted talents to predetermined organizational objectives and deliver them in such a unique way that one cannot help but retain...long after the event.”

United States Air Force, Superintendent of Professional Development

Jon’s customer service presentation was the most talked about session and one of the best reviewed presentations we’ve ever had. We set up a pre-event call to discuss our audience and the topics we’d like him to touch on; he did his research and delivered a very personalized presentation with lots of humor, a touch of magic and lots of applicable information. He was so easy to work with and I would absolutely bring him back for another conference!

Delta Vacations, Delta University

THANK YOU SO MUCH! I heard such great feedback from everyone. You kept the group very engaged all while sending a great message. It was apparent that you studied our business and incorporated that well. I can’t believe what it took for you to get there and I do really appreciate you making it happen. Many people would have sat back and called it a day! I will be sure to spread the word to my colleagues.”

Global Sales Kickoff Meeting

“Jon is one of the most engaging speaker/emcee we have worked with over my many years of hosting corporate events. It was clear that Jon had invested significant time to understand his audience and our company, which made him so much more relevant. Our guests were thrilled with his style, substance, talent and humor -- he delighted us all and we can't wait to invite Jon back.”

Vice Chairman, US Bank - Sales Kick Off
